

A volunteer is an individual who offers their time and skills freely to support a cause, organization, or community without financial compensation. They contribute to various activities, such as helping those in need, promoting environmental initiatives, or assisting in educational programs, driven by a desire to make a positive impact.

Music Production & Technology Gralan Early

Dance CO. Cheavon Latham

Cultural Arts Isaac Davis Partners that support a coalition without formally joining typically provide resources, expertise, or assistance while maintaining their independent status. These allies may contribute through funding, sharing knowledge, or facilitating connections, enhancing the coalition's efforts without committing to full membership. Their involvement strengthens the coalition's initiatives and expands its reach, fostering collaboration while allowing each partner to pursue their own mission.